Digit by digit your vehicle registration number appears on the display, the unit then returns to the last station that was selected.

What to do in case of repair
If the radio or vehicle was to be repaired by your dealer, which may necessitate a break in power feed, please de-activate the code number from the memory as described under previous heading.

Note: In the event of the vehicle being transferred to a new owner/operator, please ensure that the code number and/ or passport is also transferred.

Mislaid or forgotten code
If your Radio Security Code is mislaid or forgotten, a code information facility is available through all Vauxhall dealers. However this service will be on a chargeable basis.
