

FIG. 35. SECTIONAL VIEW OF EDISON NICKEL-IRON ALKALINE CELL

terminal pillars, and are then bolted together. Ebonite rod separators are used between the plates, and the whole assembly is mounted in a solid welded steel container, with the terminals passing through stuffing glands in the cover. Fig. 36 illustrates the general construction in detail.

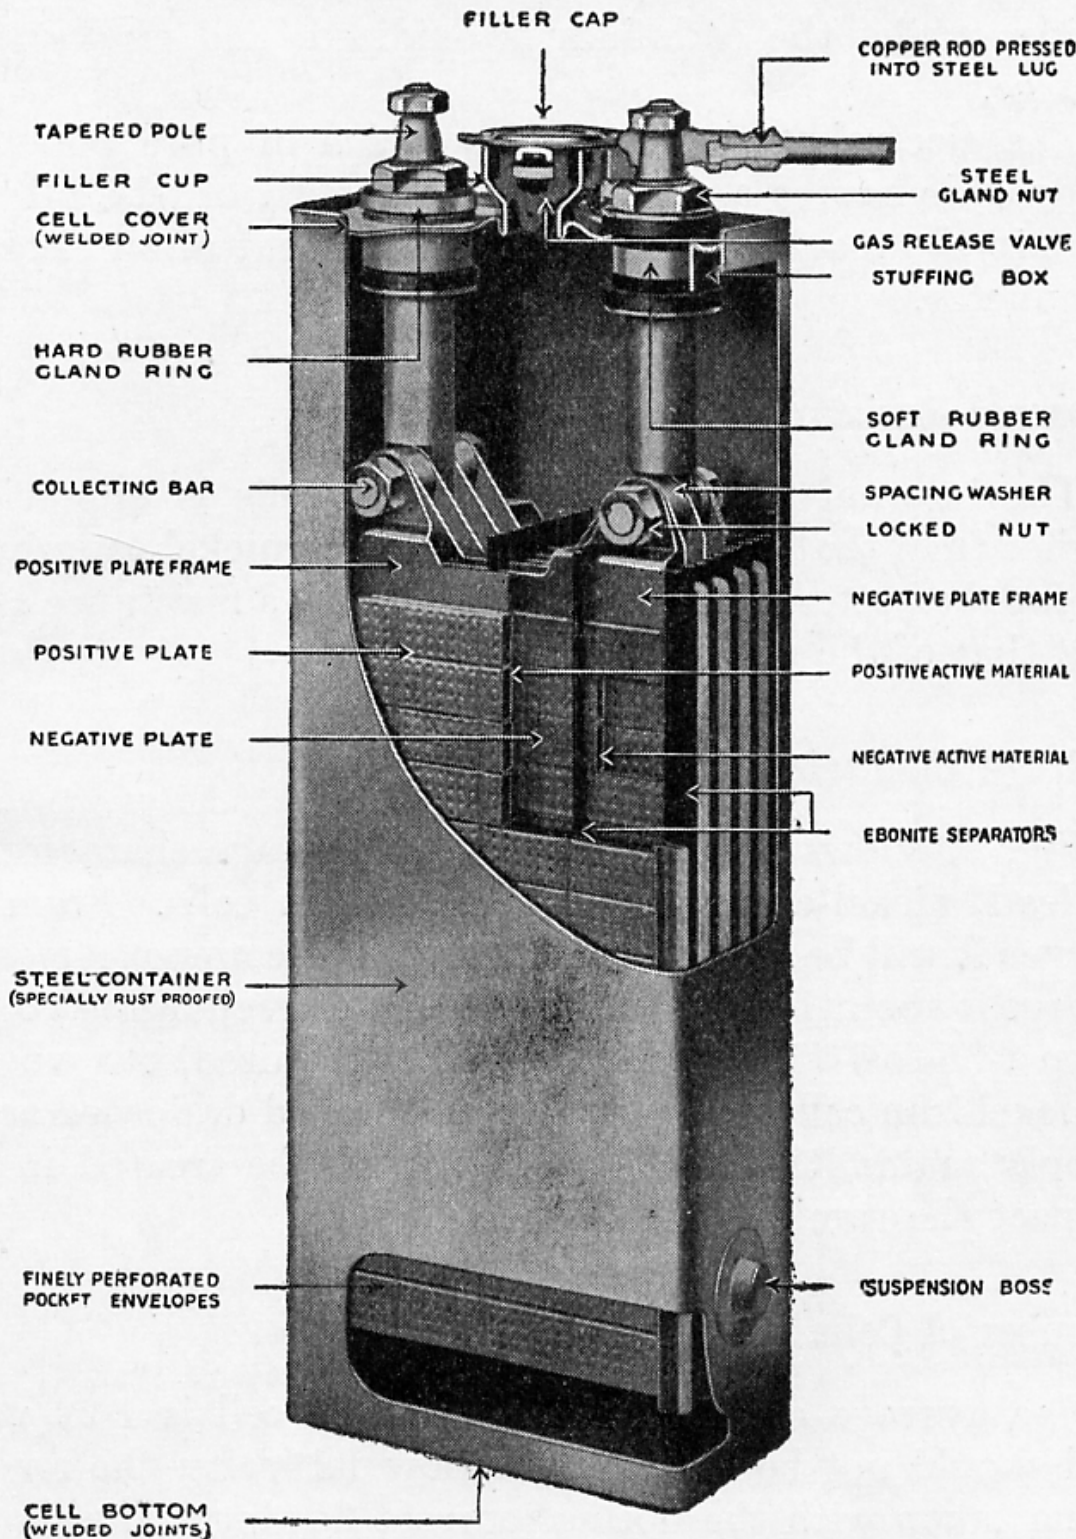

FIG. 36. "NIFE" NICKEL-CADMIUM CELL